WomenNC sponsored five select university students to participate and present at the annual United Nations' Commission on the Status of Women (CSW). The 58th CSW Priority Theme focused on the "Challenges and achievements in the implementation of the Millennium Development Goals for women and girls". Join us as the 2014 Fellows from UNC-CH, Duke & NCSU share observations, what they learned and reflect on their inspiring experiences. Learn about WomenNC's CSW Fellowship Program and how you can apply and get involved! We will debut the 2014 CSW Fellowship slide show and award the 3rd Annual Carolyn King Scholarship.

The annual United Nations Contest sponsored by the West Triangle Chapter of the United Nations Association is designed primarily to encourage local high school students to create original projects which deal with an issue or problem relevant to the mission of the United Nations. The works may come from any discipline and may take a variety of forms: essays, videos, posters, musical selections or compositions, multi-media works, etc. Projects created by teams of students are encouraged. The creators of the five top-ranked projects (three individuals and two teams) will make brief presentations of their work and will receive their awards.
