

WOMENNC FELLOWS Reflections from the United Nations

2015 WomenNC Fellows at the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women.

FedEx Global Center
301 Pittsboro Street
UNC-Chapel Hill campus

APRIL 9
5:45pm to 7:30pm

Free and open to the public
Please RSVP:
[http://cswsymposium2015.
eventbrite.com](http://cswsymposium2015.eventbrite.com)

The recipient of the Carolyn King Scholarship will be announced and refreshments will be served after the event from 7 to 7:30pm

Parking is available for free on UNC campus after 5pm

The 2015 WomenNC Fellows will reflect on their recent trip to United Nations headquarters in New York for the UN Commission on the Status of Women (CSW).

Fellows from UNC-Chapel Hill, Duke University, NC State University, and Meredith College will reflect on their experiences at the conference, focusing on the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action. The panel will focus on current challenges in implementing the Beijing Platform for Action, as well as its achievements regarding gender equality and women's empowerment, 20 years after its adoption at the Beijing Fourth World Conference on Women in 1995.

Reflections from 2015 WomenNC Fellows:

- Dina Shetata, NC State University
- Mina Ezipke, Duke University
- Liv Alvarado, Meredith College
- Josh King, UNC-Chapel Hill
- Justine Schnitzler, NC State University
- Alison Domonoske, UNC-Chapel Hill
- Dana Raphael, Duke University

